About Khoirabari College

Khoirabari College was established on 16th August 1991, first as a Junior College and in 1993 Degree Section was introduced to impart higher education to the students of the backward region, situated in the South-Western part of the Udalguri District under B.T.A.D. on the cost of some dignitaries and industrious fellows 'tireless efforts of the greater Khoirabari area. It is almost one Kilometer away both from the railway station and bus station and located near the west side of the Khoirabari Mangaldoi Road. Though, it was a long conceived dream on the time of its establishment, right now the college has achieved all the required modern facilities in the field of academic as well as infrastructural development.

Fortunately, the college has been provincialised on 1st January, 2013 by the Assam Government.
